Art Unit: 2111

1. Claims 21-39 are presented for examination.
2. The specification has not been checked to the extent necessary to determine the presence of all possible minor errors. Applicant's cooperation is requested in correcting any errors of which applicant may become aware in the specification. Furthermore, all claims should be revised carefully to eliminate all grammatical errors and antecedent basis problems.
3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 21-23 and 25-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by US Patent 6,397,340 issued to Watts, Jr. et al.

As per claim 21, the reference of Watts, Jr. et al. teaches “monitoring a time related level of processing activity by a processing unit including a processor” in col. 6, lines 4-7 and col. 13, lines 55-56 and “increasing or decreasing the performance level of the processor according to the monitored level of processing activity” in Fig. 1.

As per claim 22, the reference of Watts, Jr. et al. teaches “wherein the processor activity is determined by monitoring input/output operations associated with the processor” in col. 6, lines 36-43.

As per claim 23, the reference of Watts, Jr. et al. teaches “wherein the input/output operations comprise write cycles” in col. 11, lines 37-38.

Art Unit: 2111

As per claim 25, the reference of Watts, Jr. et al. teaches "monitoring a time related level of processing activity by a processing unit" in col. 6, lines 4-7 and col. 13, lines 55-56 and "increasing or decreasing processor performance level of the processing unit according to the monitored level of processing activity" in Fig. 1.

As per claims 26 and 27, the added limitations of the claims are rejected for the same reasons as discussed in the rejection of claims 22 and 23 respectively.

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 24 and 28-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent 6,397,340 issued to Watts, Jr. et al. in view of US Patent 4,670,837 issued to Sheets.

As per claim 24, the claim is rejected for the same reasons as discussed in the rejection of claim 21 with the exception of "wherein the processor activity is determined by monitoring access by the processor to memory coupled to the processor". However, the above feature was well known to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made as evidenced by sheets. The reference of Sheets teaches the feature in col. 2, lines 7-29 and col. 3, lines 1-4. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to implement the above feature of Sheets in the system of Watts, Jr. et al. to obtain the claimed invention because processor activity may include memory accesses and by increasing or decreasing the performance level of processing activity would save power consumed by the processor. The reference of sheets teaches the motivation in col. 3, lines 1-4.

As per claim 28, the claim recites a combination of the limitations shown in claims 21 and 24 and are rejected for similar reasons discussed above in the rejection of claims 21 and 24.

As per claims 29 and 30, the added limitations of the claims are rejected for the same reasons as discussed in the rejection of claims 22 and 23 respectively.

7. Claims 31-39 are allowable over the prior art on record. If applicant is aware of any better prior art than those are on record, he is required to bring the prior art to the attention of the examiner. The reasons for allowance of claims 31-39 have been given in last office action mailed 5/20/04.

8. Applicant's arguments filed on 8/2/04 have been fully considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

9. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Gopal C. Ray whose telephone number is (703) 305-9647. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Friday from 8:00 AM - 4:30 PM.
